

EDUCATIONAL TRUNKS available to teachers in NW Montana

FireWorks – (Grades K-12) – 2 trunks locally: free from Glacier National Park (laura_law@nps.gov) and free from Flathead National Forest (call the Forest Supervisor's Office 406/758-5204) – Interactive, hands-on material to study the forces that cause change in forests, particularly wildland fire. Activities and lessons in the curriculum are tied to a collection of teaching tools to help students learn about fire ecology in three kinds of forests found in the northern Rocky Mountains. Curriculum linked to national educational standards. For more information and to download the curriculum visit the following web site: <http://www.firelab.org>

Songbird Kit – (Grades K-8) – free from Glacier National Park (laura_law@nps.gov) also available for $35 plus shipping from Museum of the Rockies or Sacagawea Chapter of the Audubon Society, see web links at end -- This dynamic trunk has activities geared for the classroom as well as outdoors relating to songbirds. Resource materials, activities, videos, a felt storyboard, posters, recorded bird songs, and puppets all help students learn more about the natural history of several songbirds.

Wolf Trunk – (Grades K-6) – free from Glacier National Park (laura_law@nps.gov) and free from Flathead National Forest (call the Forest Supervisor's Office 406/758-5204) – Includes pelts, skulls, tapes of wolf howls, videos, track casts and activity guide. Great for learning about predator/prey relationships and food chains.

Bear Trunk – (Grades K-12) – free from Glacier National Park (laura_law@nps.gov) – Background material, research guides, and props to facilitate discussions about bears of the world, their habitats, and food sources. Emphasis is on black and grizzly bears including how to tell them apart and how to hike/camp safely in bear country. Activity guide and sample lesson plan included. With additional materials available on the web, upper grades can benefit from information regarding scientific method and results of the Crown of the Continent Ecosystem DNA research study to determine population size as well as information about listing of the grizzly bear as an endangered species.

Wilderness and Land Ethic Box and Curriculum – (Grades K-8) – free from Flathead National Forest (call the Forest Supervisor's Office 406/758-5204) – Interactive resource to promote awareness and appreciation of the cultural, environmental and experimental values of our natural resources. Activities and lessons in the curriculum are tied to a collection of teaching tools including animal skulls and skins, puppets, books, video and audio tapes, maps and more. For more information and to download the curriculum visit the following website: <http://www.wilderness.net>

Sally Snag – (Primary Grades) – free from Flathead National Forest (call the Forest Supervisor's Office 406/758-5204) – Bring a “dead” tree into your classroom, with Sally Snag! Sally shows kids how wildlife benefits from dead trees. Sally is easily set up with a fabric piece, tent poles, and hoola-hoops. Sally comes in a suitcase with an assortment of wildlife puppets and script. Sally can also become Sammy Snag depending on who is “playing the snag”.

Amphibian and Reptile Trunk – (Grades K-6) – free from Flathead National Forest (call the Forest Supervisor’s Office 406/758-5204) – Check out this trunk to discover what makes amphibians and reptiles so special. Videos, books, resource guides and a notebook full of suggested classroom activities make learning about the adaptations, conservation, and identification of Montana species fun! Trunk includes six junior size nets.

Bat Box – (Grades K-6) – free from Flathead National Forest (call the Forest Supervisor’s Office 406/758-5204) – “Sleep all Day, Play all Night. What kids wouldn’t like bats?”— from poster in the trunk. Trunk contains bat puppets, books, posters and lots more to explore the life and history of bats.

Loon Trunk – (Grades pre-K-12) – free from Montana Loon Society (or call the Flathead National Forest Supervisor’s Office 406/758-5204) – Meet “Lottie” the Loon, who plays a true loon wail, learn how to identify a loon by dressing up a student, participate in games to learn how pollution is harmful to loons through the process of bioaccumulation, examine topographic maps to determine what lakes would make a good territory for a pair of nesting loons. This box contains a wealth of fun, hands-on items including a loon egg replica, puppets, scripts, videos, posters and much more to learn about Montana Loons. A three-ring notebook is full of lesson and activity ideas that meet Montana Content and Performance Standards for science, math, social studies, art, and language arts.

Traveling Medicine Show – (Grades K-12) – free from the Hockaday Museum of Art (Contact Kathy Martin, 406/755-5268 or education@hockadaymuseum.org) – First Nation artwork from the Northern Plains in three trunks: Trunk One: Ancient Case -- Bow and arrow, shield, parfleche etc. from long ago; Trunk Two: Traditional Case -- Ceremonial and everyday clothing, moccasins, dolls, cradle board, drum and pipe, decorative beadwork, etc.; Trunk Three: Contemporary Case -- Current art, artists, and traditions.

Rolling Rivers Trailer – (Grades 3-12) – free from Flathead County Conservation District (contact Outreach and Watershed Coordinator Patti Mason, 406/752-4220 fed3@centurytel.net) – Several types of river systems can be modeled using this large sandbox, plastic houses, vegetation, and, of course, water! Through this interactive display students learn how waterways and citizens can coexist. Patti or another certified trainer will accompany the trailer’s visit to your school as a guest speaker who can lead activities.

Bird ID and Costume Trunk – free from Flathead Audubon Chapter (call NW MT Educational Coop Office 406/752-3302 or email naz@centurytel.net) - What’s a great way to learn about birds? By becoming one of course! This trunk provides a costume to dress your students up with all the major bird adaptations to turn them into “real” birds of a feather! New in Fall 2008 – Wetland and Riparian Studies Trunk – free from Flathead Audubon Chapter (call NW MT Educational Coop Office 406/752-3302 or email naz@centurytel.net). We are in the process of developing this trunk in partnership with the Flathead Conservation District (the District will also have a duplicate copy of the trunk to borrow). Appropriate from Elementary to Middle School.

Also New in 2008 – Snowy Owls Who Are They? Book and Trunk – free from Flathead Audubon Chapter (call NW MT Educational Coop Office 406/752-3302 or email naz@centurytel.net). Audubon and the Owl Research Institute have joined together to develop this trunk based on the book written by Ansley Watson Ford and Denver Holt. Appropriate from Elementary to Middle School.

From the Tree 2 You! – developed by Women in Timber (Contact: Holly McKenzie, 406-892-4141, hmckenzie@centurytel.net) - Collection of reference materials, suggested activities and hands-on tools for learning about forests, forest products and tree species.

Forest Stewardship Education Trunk—(Grades 5-12)—free from Swan Ecosystem Center, 406 754-3137, or swanec3@blackfoot.net or for a fee of $25/2 weeks or $35/3 weeks from Montana Natural History Center or 406 327-0405.

This trunk guides students through a variable plot timber cruise with the use of professional foresters' tools. The cruise not only surveys the timber on a particular piece of land but also the shrubs and plants present and wildlife use on the land. Besides a teachers' guide and a set of lesson plans, the trunk includes six completely outfitted loggers' vests, reference materials, a CD-Rom called Montana Forests Forever, created by the Montana Logging Association, six stereoscopes for reading aerial photographs and a set of six plant and tree identification guides. The complete curriculum will enable students to write a management plan for the property surveyed. However, there are many components of the trunk that can be used without completing the curriculum. One of the most popular pieces is a tree's biography and another is using tree cookies to see the relationship between circumference and diameter.
